COUNTY'S SOLDIER DEAD ARE HONORED

DR. COILE MAKES DEDICATORY ADDRESS FOR MEMORIAL AVE.

COLLEGE GIVES GROUND

The Care and Upkeep of the Avenue of Trees Will be Assumed By the College

The sacrifice made by Nodaway county's men on the field of battle in the world war was commemorated yesterday afternoon when the soldier dead were honored by the gift of a memorial avenue of trees, planted on the State Teachers College campus by the Maryville chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

The dedicatory service held at 3 o'clock was impressive and its significance touched the hearts of everyone present. The ceremony was held on the campus west of the pine grove. The entrance to the avenue was marked by two large flags, held unfurled by boys from the training school of the college. Two trees were planted at this time and the spot where each of the remaining forty-two trees will stand was marked by a flag.

The crowd present included people from all over the county representing the families and friends of the men in whose memory the service was held. The number was not nearly so large as should have been at such a ceremony. The bad roads prevented many from the country attending.

Dr. G. S. Cox of the First Methodist church gave the invocation and followed this by the presentation of the gift in the name of the D. A. R. President Richardson then presented the ground given by the college for the avenue and also gave the assurance that the college would in future care for the trees and ground.

Dr. S. A. Coile of the First Presbyterian church made the dedicatory address, calling the attention of the audience to the great gift of the men which this memorial would commemorate in the years to come and the veneration and honor that should be accorded them by the people of their home county.

The remainder of the trees will be planted early in the spring when the ground will be prepared under the direction of the college landscape gardener. When this is completed there will be a column placed at each end bearing a bronze tablet on which will be inscribed the names of the soldiers and the cause for which the avenue was established.

MRS. H[illegible]DERMAN PASSES AWAY A[illegible]0 THIS MORNING

Had Lived Here 51 Years—Was Much Respected in the Community—No Funeral Arrangements Made

Mrs. Hannah S. Alderman, the wife of Judge Ira K. Alderman died at 6.10 o'clock this morning at the family home, 301 South Main street. Mrs. Alderman had been in very poor health for several years and for a number of weeks previous to her death had been confined to her bed.

Mrs. Alderman had been a resident of Maryville for fifty one years, she and her husband coming here shortly after their marriage. She is the oldest in years of membership of any woman in the First Methodist church congregation being a charter member of the church. Her membership dates back to the time when Maryvile was a circuit charge and she and her husband entertained in their home the first pastor of the Maryville station, Rev. Charles Stocking.

During all these years of her church membership, until failing health prevented, Mrs. Alderman was a constant and untiring worker and faithful in deed and word to her religion. She was a woman of very high character and possessed those attributes of personality which held the love and respect of every one in the community.

No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral or will be until the time of the arrival of an only daughter, Mrs Ada Amelia Bingaman of Cordell, Okla. is determined.

Judge and Mrs. Alderman celebrated their fifty second anniversary of their marriage on July 31 of this year. Her maiden name was Hannah Sherwood Lallance and she was born in Racine, Meigs county, Ohio on May 12, 1843. She was married to her husband on July 31, 1867 and they came to Maryville the following year. Mr. Alderman had been living here since 1866. Beside her husband, Mrs. Alderman is survived by three children, Dale V. Alderman of St. Joseph, Mrs. Alvin Bingaman of Cordell, Okla., and Verne Alderman of this city. One son, Glen Lallance died in infancy.

WHOLE NATION IS WILSON'S 'DOCTOR'

LETTERS AND MESSAGES RECEIVED DAILY AND HOURLY

PUBLIC SENDS SYMPATHY

From Formal Notes of Diplomats to Scrawled Outpourings of His Humblest Admirers

Washington, Nov. 12.—The two most human qualities displayed by the people of a great nation when their titular head or popular idol is overtaken by sickness or misfortune are sympathy and advice.

Never has this fact been more clearly demonstrated than during the present recent illness of President Wilson From the time of the first announcement that the president had been forced to cancel all engagements up to the present the people of this country have ceaselessly, day by day, poured out to him their expressions of sympathy and advice.

Of this great sympathy the president has as yet heard nothing. Ambassadors, foreign ministers, senators, representatives, cabinet members, high officials of state and delegations of citizens have called at the White House to pay their respects. Kings and potentates have cabled their expressions of sympathy and regard. All communications have been received and formally acknowledged, then carefully filed away in the White House archives. The president's physicians have decreed that his only hope for complete recovery lies in his absolute seclusion and rest, both physical and mental.

The messages of sympathy differ only in the manner of expression, from the carefully worded and correctly formal notes of the diplomat to the rudely scrawled outpourings of the president's humblest but most ardent admirers.

Officially, Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, the president's personal physician, has had the assistance and advice of but six other eminent medical men, but unofficially and gratuitously he is advised by thousands of people daily. Every person in the United States that ever recovered from anything like a similar affection, it would seem from a general survey of the daily mail receipts has taken the proverbial pen in hand and offered the benefit of their experiences for the consideration of Dr. Grayson. With every curve on the chart of the president's illness as indicated by the two daily bulletins issued from the White House, there follow hundreds of letters and telegrams advising what should be done according to the personal experiences of the writers. Many of the letters are followed by medicines, from natural herbs with instructions, to patented cureall. Various devices, mechanical and otherwise, have found their way to the executive mansion with minute instructions as to their uses.

Devotees of every kind of health cult have volunteered to help with their treatment. Faith cures of all kinds have been offered. In fact, to the White House attaches, at least, the whole nation seems to be prescribing for the president.

Mrs. Wilson has not escaped the tide. Many of the letters addressed to her have been of the admonitory "—wife" character, counseling her as to how she can best care for Mr. Wilson and recounting the sender's personal experiences in caring for her "good man."

Both Mrs. Wilson and Dr. Grayson have been deeply moved by the evident sincerity of these letters, and although their numbers preclude th possibility of their giving each one their personal attention, each has frequently expressed appreciation of the good intention of the public.

NODAWAY FARMS SECOND BEST EQUIPPED IN THE STATE

Agricultural Report Shows 111 Tractors In Use — Platte County Has Greatest Number

The progressive spirit of Nodaway county farmers is shown by the use of more tractors in this county than any other in the state, except Platte county, according to the November report published by the Missouri State Board of Agriculture.

This report by counties was compiled in June and gives a total for Nodaway of 111. Platte county leads the list in having 121. The following article gives the total number in the state:

The Missouri tractor survey of the Co-operative Crop Reporting Service shows 7,200 tractors in the state. Up to June 1, 3,332 reported names of owners and kinds of machine. It is surprising that since that date 16 of the larger manufacturers have sold 2,700 in Missouri. The official statement is that, including those sold by the many smaller makers and the number unreported in the counties amounting to 1,178, Missouri farmers today have 7,200 tractors.

PROMINENT RESIDENT OF GRAHAM DIES THIS MORNING

John Collett Was 74 Years a Resident of County—Funeral Services at Daughter's Home

John Collett, for seventy-four years a resident of Nodaway county, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James A. Kavanaugh of Graham, this morning at 1:30 o'clock. Mr. Collett, who was 86 years old, had been in feeble health for some time. Since the death of his wife three years ago he had made his home with his only child, Mrs. Kavanaugh. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock at the Kavanaugh residence in Graham. Mrs. O. W. Swinford of this city, a sister-in-law, is in Graham for the funeral.

John Collett was born in Cole county, Missouri, on the 23rd day of September, 1833. His father, Abraham Collett, was a native of Tennessee, while his mother, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Gilliam, was born in North Carolina. He was reared by his parents and accompanied them on their removal to Nodaway county in 1845, securing his education in this and Cole counties. Since coming here he had remained a resident continuously of this county, a period of 74 years. Farming was his chief occupation during his active years, though for fourteen years he was successfully engaged in the blacksmithing business in this city. He settled in Hughes township about 1868 and devoted himself closely to the tilling of the soil until 1908, when he retired from active labor. On December 27, 1865, Mr. Collett married Pernecia Saunders, who was the daughter of William and Arethusia (Courtney) Saunders. Mrs. Collet died three years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Yeo, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Eckert and Dr. Karl Malotte were among the Maryville persons going to St. Joseph this morning.

4 WAR VETERANS KILLED BY I. W. W.'S

FIRE ON AMERICAN LEGION AT ARMISTICE DAY PARADE

LEADER HANGED BY MOB

Two Former Service Men Are Badly Wounded and Others Hurt When the Crowd Was Fired Into

Centralia, Wash., Nov. 12.—Troops of the Washington National Guard are on duty at Centralia today following the outbreak in which four overseas veterans of the American army were killed as they marched in the Armistice Day parade by shots fired by alleged members of the Industrial Workers of the World. The arrival of the troops, it is believed, has prevented further outbreaks and brought about reestablishment of order.

Centralia, Wash., Nov. 12. — Four members of the American Legion are dead, two other former service men are in a precarious condition and several others were wounded when persons said to be members of the Industrial Workers of the World fired on an Armistice Day parade here yesterday afternoon.

Britt Smith, secretary of the I. W. W. local here, said to have been one of those who fired on the marchers, was taken from jail and hanged by a mob last night.

At least eight supposed Industrial Workers of the World are in the local jail guarded from a mob by several hundred former comrades of the men shot down yesterday.

The dead:

Arthur McElfresh, Centralia.

Ben Casagranda, Centralia.

Warren Grimm, Centralia, former University of Washington football star.

Dale Hubbard, Centralia.

The wounded include:

John Earl Watt, Chehalis, not expected to live.

George Stevens, Centralia.

Jacob Phitzer, Chehalis.

E. Eubanks, Chehalis.

Hubbard, one of the victims of yesterday's shooting, died last night at 11 o'clock of his wounds.

The shooting began when the parade drew abreast of the Industrial Workers of the World hall here, according to witnesses, the bullets going over the heads of the crowds watching the parade. Onlookers say shots came from every direction and that snipers in the upper windows of the I. W. W. headquarters building fired into the line.

McElfresh was killed outright.

Grimm, formerly a lieutenant, was leading a platoon in the parade and fell at the second burst of fire, mortally wounded.

WATERS OF 102 FALLING. NO HARM TO PUMP STATION

Rapid Rise of Last Night Receding—Fallen Three Feet and Now Less Than Bank Full

A rapid and sudden rise in the river at this point caused more alarm last night to the workmen at the pumping station where the new intake is being installed. The added volume of water brought from the north on account of very heavy rains at Lenox, Ia., and points north of there, began raising the water line about 5 oclock last night and this continued several hours. It began receding at that time and has fallen practically three feet and is scarcely bank full now. No damage whatever was done to the plant. The heavy rains however have prevented any progress being made on the work.

Pickering reports that the river is falling there whileat Arkoe and at Barnard the 102 is still raising. Both Arkoe and Barnard reported that the river today is higher than yesterday an das high as at an ytime last summer.

The Burlington is experienced considerable trouble in running between Arkoe and Barnard and all of their trains have been running behind schedule for the past day or two.

Miss Mabel Merrigan of Conception came to Maryville to visit her aunt, Mrs. E. L. Ferritor. Miss Merrigan and Mrs. Ferritor will go to Omaha tomorrow to spend the day.

Mrs. William Foster returned last night from Omaha, Neb., where she took a week's instruction at Keeps Dancing Academy, also the Chambers Academy.

CITY SHIVERS AT 7 ABOVE FIRST SNOW LAST NIGHT

"Cold and Snow" Booked for Circuit Arrives—Record in 19 Years for Early November

Seven above, the coldest day of the season to date today. Thermometers performed a "shoot the chutes" stunt last night, dropping many degrees in three hours and bringing along in the trail of a severe northwest wind a slight flurry of snow, which is the first snow of the season also. Clearing skies and a partial lay of the wind has brought slight moderation today.

Today's record is the coldest for this early in November in nineteen years. The records kep by Weather Forecaster J. R. Brink show a registration of 3 above on Nov. 7, 1900.

Considerable trouble was experienced this morning in heating the buildings uptown by the light company.

MORE THAN 2 MILLION MEN STILL FIGHTING

Armistice of November 11, 1918, Didn't Usher in Word Peace In Europe

Washington, Nov. 11—A year ago the world celebrated the event that was to turn the swords into plowshares. Today more than 2 million men still are fighting in Europe alone, as many more are bearing arms and ready for trouble, and there is no immediate prospect that the wars and rumors of war will cease.

The fighting in Russian involves eighteen separate and distinct armies on the anti-Bolshevist side, representing nearly as many different peoples. D'Annunzio's private war in Fiume threatens to become public. The depredations of the Turk continue in Afghanistan and in Egypt there is trouble. India is restive.

Beginning on the Murman coast, in what is called the "Archangel situation," the American general staff map of Russian disorders show an almost unbroken fighting front surrounding the Bolshevist armies and extending east to Vladivostok, where American troops are stationed.

An "Unofficial" German War.

Accurate figures are not available, but it is believed that at least 100,000 men are engaged in the war between the Letts and the ...on Division" carrying an "unofficial" German war into Russia.

A Finnish army, not supported by its government, is moving south toward Petrograd.

If the highest estimate were accepted there might seem to be nearer three million than two million men engaged in the Russian warfare. There are weapons enough for three million, exclusive of material provided by the Allies in the last year.

Soon there are to be troop movements to Upper Silesia for the plebiscite, and to Danzig and to the Allinstein area of East Prussia for the same reason.

Belgian, British, French and American armies of occupation are still necessary in Germany. Allied occupation of Dalmatia, with American naval forces participating, continues.

Czecho-Slovakia spends most of its time and money maintaining a guard around the borders of its new state.

Italy Verges on Upheaval.

Diplomatic and military means are being considered for dislodging D'Annunzio from Fiume, with possibility of upheaval in Italy in the background.

Poland is dissatisfied with the peace treaty. The revolutionary threat in Germany is so serious that the Dutch border guard has been strengthened. Talaat Bey, former grand vizier of Turkey, is plotting in Switzerland. Rumania is brooding over an ultimatum demanding the removal of her troops from Hungary.

So the war maps are still on the walls at general staff headquarters, and the yards of colored yarn, representing hundreds of miles of battle front and death and pillage, are being moved backward and forward. And Armistice Day is now a holiday in most of the war departments of the world.

Leave for California.

MISSOURI NEWS LETTER.

Kansas City, Nov. 11.—Judge E. P. Lindley, who died at his home in Nevada, Mo., last Friday afternoon, was buried here yesterday afternoon. Judge Lindley was the son of Former Representative James J. Lindley and was born in northern Missouri, but spent many years in St. Louis. His widow, Mrs. Hattie Lindley, was the daughter of Alonzo Thompson, once state auditor.

Jefferson City, Nov. 11.—How Governor Gardner made $15,000 on a farm which he never saw was learned when the governor was officially informed of the sale of the 440-acre farm in Audrain county which he purchased several months ago for $66,000. The sale was made through State Oil Inspector O. D. Gray, the price the governor received being $81,000.

Upon being notified of the sale Governor Gardner declared he wished to get hold of a 2,000-acre farm and "farm on a large scale."

Moberly, Nov. 11.—The annual convention of Missouri Republican clubs being jointly held this year with a meeting of the State Republican Women's Clubs, opened here this morning. The Kaiser's Kitchen.

In what is destined to be the last stage of its travels, the field kitchen of William Hohenzollern, which had followed the former Kaiser in all his wanderings about Europe during the war, is on its way to the United States. As if to give the changing of hands a more significant aspect, German prisoners of war were requisitioned to load the field kitchen—with all its elaborate accessories—aboard the westbound transport at St. Nazaire. The portable "kochenhaus" shows no sign of the wear and tear of war, indicating a certain remoteness to the battle front of all connected with the once imperial suite. The trophy, it is intended, shall be added to a notable collection of war relics at the American capital; whether it is to be utilized in the ways approved by the former kaiser is, of course, another matter.

SOLDIERS SEE GIANT CLOCK

Massive Timepiece in House of Commons Tower, Regarded as One of World's Best Timekeepers.

Fifty disabled soldiers, many of whom had lost a leg in the war and wore an artificial one in its place, climbed the 360 steps of the House of Commons tower in London to study the mechanism of "Big Ben," the giant timepiece. The soldiers are being trained by the ministry of labor in watch and clock repairing.

A guide told the party that the clock was designed by Lord Grimthorp, and was placed in the tower in 1895. It has been working ever since, and is still regarded as one of the best timekeepers in the world. The minute hand is 14 feet long and weighs 224 pounds, and the pendulum, which requires two seconds to complete each swing, weighs 700 pounds. The bell which sounds the hours has a diameter of nine feet, and weighs 14 tons, the weight of the striking hammer being 796 pounds. An electric motor now winds the clock in 20 minutes. Formerly it took two men working three afternoons a week to complete the task.

It Was His Only Complaint.

Two weary tramps met after a lengthy separation and sat down to compare experiences.

"Have yer been to the front?" asked one. "Ain't seen yer about lately."

"I've had influenzy."

"Influenzy? What's that?"

"Well I don't know how I can exactly explain it, but it takes all the fight out of yer. Yer feels sort of tired like. Don't seem to want to do anything only lie down and sleep."

"Why I've had that disease for the last 20 years!" exclaimed the first speaker; "but this is the first time I've heard its name."—London Tit-Bits.

Ye Old-Time Telephone Girl.

"Time was, before the experts came along and, in vulgar business parlance, 'sold efficiency' to the telephone companies, when the telephone was a real convenience," John Armbruster relates in Everybody's. "The historic instance of the lady who rang up central and said: 'I am just stepping over to Mrs. Brewster's for a few minutes to get her doughnut recipe—she's Main 227—and I'll leave the receiver off so you can hear if the baby cries and let me know.' In my home town we used to ask central where the fire was and who was dead and did she think there was any mail for us."

Fire-Resisting Construction.

For fire-resisting construction, the recommendations of the American Concrete Institute specify that limestone, trap-rock and burned clay be given preference over highly siliceous gravels, which disintegrate under intense heat. When gravel is used, without a protective coating, columns should be made round instead of rectangular. When gravel, with spiral reinforcement, is used for either round or rectangular columns, it is suggested that additional protection be given by a coating of one inch of cement plaster, either on metal lath or reinforced by light expanded metal.

Electric Circular Saw.

Among recent electric tool novelties is a portable circular saw, provided with the handle of an ordinary hand saw. The tool weighs only 12 pounds with its one-quarter horsepower motor, uses a 3-inch crosscut or rip saw, has a suitable depth gage and is provided with an aluminum base grooved to slide on a guide track when necessary. The blade is covered with a safety guard.

Italy's Lumber Requirements.

Destruction of the invaded district of Italy, although bad enough, has not been so great as anticipated. Unless there is a tremendous industrial development as a consequence of the war, it seems likely that even with favorable freight rates Italy's requirements in the lines of rough and sawn lumber for ordinary commercial use will not exceed 2,000,000,000 to 2,500,000,000 board feet a year.

A Friend Indeed

By RHODA WORTHINGTON

(Copyright, 1919, by the Western Newspaper Union.)

"I cannot take your case, Mr. Boyd."

Wilton Brice was definite in tone and face as he spoke, but there was a tremor to his frame. He was by no means friendly with his caller, Percival Boyd, but that was not the reason that he had refused to act as his attorney. He asked a client with whom he was conversing to step into the anteroom while he consulted with the newcomer.

The latter was the prosperous manufacturer of a patent scale which was making him a fortune. Its inventor was Andrew Mayhew, who had sold or had been cozened out of an interest in the same by the father of Boyd, now deceased. More latterly Mayhew had devised a new scale, which was so superior to the Boyd possession that there could be little doubt as to its eventually outdistancing its competitor.

Only a month previous Brice had met Mr. Mayhew, and the old inventor had asked him to come to his home in a professional capacity. There Mr. Mayhew had gone over the details of his experience with the Boyd people, had asked Brice to look over his new patent papers and advise him as to the best course to pursue.

"I think young Boyd is trying to block my way," said Mr. Mayhew. "He told me the other day that he had a document given to his father years ago and signed by myself, in which I agreed never again to engage in the scale business, and if I ever did, or made any new inventions in the line, I was to agree to turn the same over to him on a ten per cent royalty. This is not true, Mr. Brice," declared the old inventor with unmistakable sincerity. "I never signed such a paper.

At the Mayhew home for the first time Brice met Anice, the old man's daughter. It was not the last time, however. She was a girl likely to attract any man admiring modesty, innocence and intelligence, and Brice fell strongly in love with her. Now, when the menace Mayhew feared appeared, Brice was naturally disturbed at the charge made against the father of the girl, whose fondest ambitions were involved in getting a new start in the world.

"Tell you, Brice," spoke Boyd smartly, "I think you are making a mistake. I do not wish to oppress Mayhew, but I don't intend to lose my rights. I had rather employ a local lawyer like yourself, who might influence a fellow townsman, than our regular firm in the city. I have decided that if you will not handle the case I shall give it into their hands," and Boyd took an addressed, stamped envelope from his pocket and withdrew its inclosed sheet. "There is the contract," he continued; "read it for yourself."

"As I have said, I cannot be your attorney in the premises," he spoke.

"And why not?" demanded Boyd sharply.

"Because the copy Mr. Mayhew showed me does not contain the clause in your own."

"Erasures are easy and convenient at times," sneered Boyd.

"No more so than the filling in of a blank space," retorted Brice quickly. "I believe in Mr. Mayhew's statement and will not take a case where I am convinced the prospective client is in the wrong."

"Indeed!" snapped Boyd resentfully. "You weren't so careful in defending the man who just left the room, Jerry Plympton, who is a professional criminal."

"But who was innocent of the special charge I defended, and that is why I won the case."

"My retainer fee would be a thousand dollars," insinuated Boyd speciously. "Think a moment. I will not hesitate to spend money in winning this case." He lifted the flap of the envelope toward his lips. "Once I seal this letter and post it your chance is gone."

Brice coolly shrugged his shoulders and with a muttered imprecation Boyd sealed the envelope and left the room. Brice arose and went into the anteroom. His client, Jerry Plympton, had strangely departed. He did not put in any further appearance that day, but as Brice that evening rather gloomily started on the way to visit Mr. Mayhew and report what threatened, Jerry almost ran into him coming around the corner.

"Hello!" hailed Brice. "Where away?"

"New fields, where I can keep honest, Mr. Brice," reported Jerry spiely. "I think I had better, for I was tempted into our last dangerous act here. I overheard that Boyd cad threaten you and I followed him. He mailed that letter. Well, I took my cue. I waited till he was out of sight, poked a few lighted matches into the mail box, waited till things smoked—and that fake contract will never trouble your good old client again."

It never did. Jerry had flitted for the railroad depot before Brice could impress him with the enormity of his offense.

Andrew Mayhew went on with his business arrangements undisturbed, and all Brice had hoped for his success came about in due time, as also the precious love of the one girl in the world he adored.

SORCERY GRIPS THE ALASKAN

Natives Formerly Implicitly Believed In Words and Actions of the Shaman.

Shamanism, or superstition and sorcery, always has played an important part in the life of the Alaskan native, says the Chicago Evening Post. So implicitly did the Alaskan of not many years ago believe in the words and actions of the shaman that a whole tribe would go hungry rather than incur his displeasure by eating foods he had tabooed.

The Shaman attained his position and power by unusual methods. By fasting and prayer amid the solitudes of the woods or mountains, where he fed only on grasses and roots, he prepared himself to become a shaman. By this method it was believed the candidate's body became sufficiently purified to become the abiding place of spirits.

Usually the spirit, willing to abide with the shaman, sent the novitiate a land otter, which the candidate killed, the otter's tongue to be preserved as a talisman away from human view, for should it be seen it was believed shaman would go insane or be turned into the animal from which the tongue was taken.

Thus the land otter was regarded as too sacred to be killed by other than shamans.

LOCATIONS OF VOLCANOES

Eruptions Come From Weak Spots on Earth's Crust—Areas Divided in Four Groups.

Volcanoes are located on the weak spots in the earth's crust, scientists say, according to a writer in Leslie's Weekly. These areas are in the ocean basins, the lands bordering these basins, or mountains which flank or construct outlines of continents. These areas are divided into four groups, viz.: (1) Pacific-Caribbean belt, following the Andes of South America, the lesser Antilles, Central America, and Mexico, the west coast of North America, Kamchatka, the Japanese Islands, the Philippines, and Sunda Sea Islands, New Zealand and Victoria land, in the Antarctic; (2) the Mediterranean-Caspian region; (3) Atlantic region, including the volcanoes of Iceland and the Azores; (4) the Pacific region, with volcanoes in Polynesia, Hawaiian and other islands. Just why these parts of the earth's crust should be the weak spots has not been convincingly explained.

Apiary Adjunct of the Hospital.

The curious idea of making the apiary an adjunct of the hospital has been suggested. The sting of the bee has long been popularly regarded as a cure for rheumatism, and a British beekeeper has now announced that it is an almost infallible test of the safety of administering anesthetics. The keeping of the bees, therefore, may become necessary as a means of deciding whether surgical operations in certain cases may be performed. If a patient suffers from nervous weakness, a bee sting on the hand may cause a large swelling and affect the glands of the body, and operation is then unsafe.

Finland and Australia.

Finland has discovered Australia, and it is hoped observes an exchange, that the commonwealth will soon recognize commercially the enterprising new republic. Trade relations with Australia are being sought, and Finland will be glad to exchange cream separators and safety matches, paper pulp and timber for a little of Australia's surplus meat and wheat. The consul of the new republic has established his headquarters in Sydney, New South Wales, and has already obtained excellent publicity. Finland must surely have been studying American methods of production.

Masts Made by Machine.

A machine has been built which will shape masts up to 100 feet in length and three feet in diameter. The timber is set up in the machine and revolved at a speed of 50 revolutions a minute, and it is shaped by a cutter head which is electrically driven at the rate of 700 revolutions a minute. This cutter head is mounted on a carriage, which is moved along the timber against a rail set to give the proper profile to the mast. Heretofore this work has been done by hand and required skilled workmen. At best it has been a slow and laborious task.

Promising Invention.

Those of us who love to wear delicate fabrics, like laces, ruchings, organdies and chiffons, will be very glad if an alleged invention to render such stuffs moisture-proof shall be successful. Some of us have had a heap of trouble with ruchings in our sport shirts. They haven't remained nice and fresh more than four days when the tennis and golf have been good. If now they may be rendered moisture-proof we shall be as happy as the man with the celluloid collar, and exertion will have no terrors for us.—Hartford Courant.

A Bird Colony.

The most remarkable bird colony in the world is on Hat Island, in the Great Salt lake, Utah. The island is about 12 acres in extent, and the colony is securely located on a rocky pinnacle 100 feet above the brine, with not a drop of fresh water to be found and apparently nothing to attract the birds except the sense of security which the island offers.

It's a Peculiar Situation.

If you were a young woman about to be married to an old man whom you detested, what would you do to prevent the ceremony from being performed? Would you make your escape, arrayed in your wedding finery, and hide in the woods? This was the course adopted by Sylvia Weston in the new Paramount photoplay, "Three Men and a Girl," starring beautiful Marguerite Clark, which will be shown at the Empire theatre tonight.

When Sylvia found refuge in a summer camp owned by her wealthy father and which he had leased to three woman haters for the summer, she caused a commotion. These men were Christopher Kent, who is being pursued by a woman he does not care for; Julius Vanneman, a violinist, who has been jilted, and Dr. Henry Forsyth, the self-constituted guardian of the others. They are greatlyannoyed to find their retreat invaded by a fascinating girl, and they manifest their displeasure so forcibly that she takes refuge in an adjoining house with her old nurse.

The woman haters then establish a dead line between the two habitations, but it develops that one by one they go to the dead line to talk to the girl whom they find most attractive. Sylvia calls them her "big, middle-sized and little bears," and gradually she learns to love the latter, who is Kent. The cast is excellent, Miss Clark's leading man being Richard Barthelmess. Others in the support include Percy Marmont, Jerome Patrick, Ida Darling, Charles Craig and Betty Bouton.

COUNTY'S SOLDIER DEAD ARE HONORED

DR. COILE MAKES DEDICATORY ADDRESS FOR MEMORIAL AVE.

COLLEGE GIVES GROUND

The Care and Upkeep of the Avenue of Trees Will be Assumed By the College

The sacrifice made by Nodaway county's men on the field of battle in the world war was commemorated yesterday afternoon when the soldier dead were honored by the gift of a memorial avenue of trees, planted on the State Teachers College campus by the Maryville chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

The dedicatory service held at 3 o'clock was impressive and its significance touched the hearts of everyone present. The ceremony was held on the campus west of the pine grove. The entrance to the avenue was marked by two large flags, held unfurled by boys from the training school of the college. Two trees were planted at this time and the spot where each of the remaining forty-two trees will stand was marked by a flag.

The crowd present included people from all over the county representing the families and friends of the men in whose memory the service was held. The number was not nearly so large as should have been at such a ceremony. The bad roads prevented many from the country attending.

Dr. G. S. Cox of the First Methodist church gave the invocation and followed this by the presentation of the gift in the name of the D. A. R. President Richardson then presented the ground given by the college for the avenue and also gave the assurance that the college would in future care for the trees and ground.

Dr. S. A. Coile of the First Presbyterian church made the dedicatory address, calling the attention of the audience to the great gift of the men which this memorial would commemorate in the years to come and the veneration and honor that should be accorded them by the people of their home county.

The remainder of the trees will be planted early in the spring when the ground will be prepared under the direction of the college landscape gardener. When this is completed there will be a column placed at each end bearing a bronze tablet on which will be inscribed the names of the soldiers and the cause for which the avenue was established.

MRS. IRA K. ALDERMAN PASSES AWAY AT 6.10 THIS MORNING

Had Lived Here 51 Years—Was Much Respected in the Community—No Funeral Arrangements Made

Mrs. Hannah S. Alderman, the wife of Judge Ira K. Alderman died at 6.10 o'clock this morning at the family home, 301 South Main street. Mrs. Alderman had been in very poor health for several years and for a number of weeks previous to her death had been confined to her bed.

Mrs. Alderman had been a resident of Maryville for fifty one years, she and her husband coming here shortly after their marriage. She is the oldest in years of membership of any woman in the First Methodist church congregation being a charter member of the church. Her membership dates back to the time when Maryvile was a circuit charge and she and her husband entertained in their home the first pastor of the Maryville station, Rev. Charles Stocking.

During all these years of her church membership, until failing health prevented, Mrs. Alderman was a constant and untiring worker and faithful in deed and word to her religion. She was a woman of very high character and possessed those attributes of personality which held the love and respect of every one in the community.

No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral or will be until the time of the arrival of an only daughter, Mrs Ada Amelia Bingaman of Cordell, Okla. is determined.

Judge and Mrs. Alderman celebrated their fifty second anniversary of their marriage on July 31 of this year. Her maiden name was Hannah Sherwood Lallance and she was born in Racine, Meigs county, Ohio on May 12, 1843. She was married to her husband on July 31, 1867 and they came to Maryville the following year. Mr. Alderman had been living here since 1866. Beside her husband, Mrs. Alderman is survived by three children, Dale V. Alderman of St. Joseph, Mrs. Alvin Bingaman of Cordell, Okla., and Verne Alderman of this city. One son, Glen Lallance died in infancy.

WHOLE NATION IS WILSON'S 'DOCTOR'

LETTERS AND MESSAGES RECEIVED DAILY AND HOURLY

PUBLIC SENDS SYMPATHY

From Formal Notes of Diplomats to Scrawled Outpourings of His Humblest Admirers

Washington, Nov. 12.—The two most human qualities displayed by the people of a great nation when their titular head or popular idol is overtaken by sickness or misfortune are sympathy and advice.

Never has this fact been more clearly demonstrated than during the present recent illness of President Wilson From the time of the first announcement that the president had been forced to cancel all engagements up to the present the people of this country have ceaselessly, day by day, poured out to him their expressions of sympathy and advice.

Of this great sympathy the president has as yet heard nothing. Ambassadors, foreign ministers, senators, representatives, cabinet members, high officials of state and delegations of citizens have called at the White House to pay their respects. Kings and potentates have cabled their expressions of sympathy and regard. All communications have been received and formally acknowledged, then carefully filed away in the White House archives. The president's physicians have decreed that his only hope for complete recovery lies in his absolute seclusion and rest, both physical and mental.

The messages of sympathy differ only in the manner of expression, from the carefully worded and correctly formal notes of the diplomat to the rudely scrawled outpourings of the president's humblest but most ardent admirers.

Officially, Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, the president's personal physician, has had the assistance and advice of but six other eminent medical men, but unofficially and gratuitously he is advised by thousands of people daily. Every person in the United States that ever recovered from anything like a similar affection, it would seem from a general survey of the daily mail receipts has taken the proverbial pen in hand and offered the benefit of their experiences for the consideration of Dr. Grayson. With every curve on the chart of the president's illness as indicated by the two daily bulletins issued from the White House, there follow hundreds of letters and telegrams advising what should be done according to the personal experiences of the writers. Many of the letters are followed by medicines, from natural herbs with instructions, to patented curealls. Various devices, mechanical and otherwise, have found their way to the executive mansion with minute instructions as to their uses.

Devotees of every kind of health cult have volunteered to help with their treatment. Faith cures of all kinds have been offered. In fact, to the White House attaches, at least, the whole nation seems to be prescribing for the president.

Mrs. Wilson has not escaped the tide. Many of the letters addressed to her have been of the admonitory "—wife" character, counseling her as to how she can best care for Mr. Wilson and recounting the sender's personal experiences in caring for her "good man."

Both Mrs. Wilson and Dr. Grayson have been deeply moved by the evident sincerity of these letters, and although their numbers preclude th possibility of their giving each one their personal attention, each has frequently expressed appreciation of the good intention of the public.

NODAWAY FARMS SECOND BEST EQUIPPED IN THE STATE

Agricultural Report Shows 111 Tractors In Use — Platte County Has Greatest Number

The progressive spirit of Nodaway county farmers is shown by the use of more tractors in this county than any other in the state, except Platte county, according to the November rel port published by the Missouri State Board of Agriculture.

This report by counties was compiled in June and gives a total for Nodaway of 111. Platte county leads the list in having 121. The following article gives the total number in the state:

The Missouri tractor survey of the Co-operative Crop Reporting Service shows 7,200 tractors in the state. Up to June 1, 3,332 reported names of owners and kinds of machine. It is surprising that since that date 16 of the larger manufacturers have sold 2,700 in Missouri. The official statement is that, including those sold by the many smaller makers and the number unreported in the counties amounting to 1,178, Missouri farmers today have 7,200 tractors.

PROMINENT RESIDENT OF GRAHAM DIES THIS MORNING

John Collett Was 74 Years a Resident of County—Funeral Services at Daughter's Home

John Collett, for seventy-four years a resident of Nodaway county, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James A. Kavanaugh of Graham, this morning at 1:30 o'clock. Mr. Collett, who was 86 years old, had been in feeble health for some time. Since the death of his wife three years ago he had made his home with his only child, Mrs. Kavanaugh. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock at the Kavanaugh residence in Graham. Mrs. O. W. Swinford of this city, a sister-in-law, is in Graham for the funeral.

John Collett was born in Cole county, Missouri, on the 23rd day of September, 1833. His father, Abraham Collett, was a native of Tennessee, while his mother, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Gilliam, was born in North Carolina. He was reared by his parents and accompanied them on their removal to Nodaway county in 1845, securing his education in this and Cole counties. Since coming here he had remained a resident continuously of this county, a period of 74 years. Farming was his chief occupation during his active years, though for fourteen years he was successfully engaged in the blacksmithing business in this city. He settled in Hughes township about 1868 and devoted himself closely to the tilling of the soil until 1908, when he retired from active labor. On December 27, 1865, Mr. Collett married Pernecia Saunders, who was the daughter of William and Arethusia (Courtney) Saunders. Mrs. Collet died three years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Yeo, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Eckert and Dr. Karl Malotte were among the Maryville persons going to St. Joseph this morning.

4 WAR VETERANS KILLED BY I.W.W.'S

FIRE ON AMERICAN LEGION AT ARMISTICE DAY PARADE

LEADER HANGED BY MOB

Two Former Service Men Are Badly Wounded and Others Hurt When the Crowd Was Fired Into

Centralia, Wash., Nov. 12.—Troops of the Washington National Guard are on duty at Centralia today following the outbreak in which four overseas veterans of the American army were killed as they marched in the Armistice Day parade by shots fired by alleged members of the Industrial Workers of the World. The arrival of the troops, it is believed, has prevented further outbreaks and brought about reestablishment of order.

Centralia, Wash., Nov. 12. — Four members of the American Legion are dead, two other former service men are in a precarious condition and several others were wounded when persons said to be members of the Industrial Workers of the World fired on an Armistice Day parade here yesterday afternoon.

Britt Smith, secretary of the I. W. W. local here, said to have been one of those who fired on the marchers, was taken from jail and hanged by a mob last night.

At least eight supposed Industrial Workers of the World are in the local jail guarded from a mob by several hundred former comrades of the men shot down yesterday.

The dead:

Arthur McElfresh, Centralia.

Ben Casagranda, Centralia.

Warren Grimm, Centralia, former University of Washington football star.

Dale Hubbard, Centralia.

The wounded include:

John Earl Watt, Chehalis, not expected to live.

George Stevens, Centralia.

Jacob Phitzer, Chehalis.

E. Eubanks, Chehalis.

Hubbard, one of the victims of yesterday's shooting, died last night at 11 o'clock of his wounds.

The shooting began when the parade drew abreast of the Industrial Workers of the World hall here, according to witnesses, the bullets going over the heads of the crowds watching the parade. Onlookers say shots came from every direction and that snipers in the upper windows of the I. W. W. headquarters building fired into the line.

McElfresh was killed outright.

Grimm, formerly a lieutenant, was leading a platoon in the parade and fell at the second burst of fire, mortally wounded.

WATERS OF 102 FALLING. NO HARM TO PUMP STATION

Rapid Rise of Last Night Receding—Fallen Three Feet and Now Less Than Bank Full

A rapid and sudden rise in the river at this point caused more alarm last night to the workmen at the pumping station where the new intake is being installed. The added volume of water brought from the north on account of very heavy rains at Lenox, Ia., and points north of there, began raising the water line about 5 oclock last night and this continued several hours. It began receding at that time and has fallen practically three feet and is scarcely bank full now. No damage whatever was done to the plant. The heavy rains however have prevented any progress being made on the work.

Pickering reports that the river is falling there whileat Arkoe and at Barnard the 102 is still raising. Both Arkoe and Barnard reported that the river today is higher than yesterday an das high as at an ytime last summer.

The Burlington is experienced considerable trouble in running between Arkoe and Barnard and all of their trains have been running behind schedule for the past day or two.

Miss Mabel Merrigan of Conception came to Maryville to visit her aunt, Mrs. E. L. Ferritor. Miss Merrigan and Mrs. Ferritor will go to Omaha tomorrow to spend the day.

Mrs. William Foster returned last night from Omaha, Neb., where she took a week's instruction at Keeps Dancing Academy, also the Chambers Academy.

CITY SHIVERS AT 7 ABOVE FIRST SNOW LAST NIGHT

"Cold and Snow" Booked for Circuit Arrives—Record in 19 Years for Early November

Seven above, the coldest day of the season to date today. Thermometers performed a "shoot the chutes" stunt last night, dropping many degrees in three hours and bringing along in the trail of a severe northwest wind a slight flurry of snow, which is the first snow of the season also. Clearing skies and a partial lay of the wind has brought slight moderation today.

Today's record is the coldest for this early in November in nineteen years. The records kept by Weather Forecaster J. R. Brink show a registration of 3 above on Nov. 7, 1900.

Considerable trouble was experienced this morning in heating the buildings uptown by the light company.

DON'T KNOW HER AT FIRST SIGHT

Mrs. White's Neighbors Are All Talking About Her Wonderful Recovery

"You wouldn't guess Mrs. White to weight one hundred and forty pounds, would you?" said Ben White, of Ill Crescent avenue, Peoria, Ill., after introducing his wife at the Sutliff & Case Drug store, Peoria, recently. "Well, she don't, "he continued, "for I weighed her myself about a week ago and she pulled down one hundred and forty three pounds, but at the time she began taking this medicine she weighed ninety five pounds.

"If this don't convince you about what Tanlac has done for her just come out and hear the neighbors talk. They all say it is the most astonishing thing that has ever happened in our part of town. Why, her friends who have not seen her since she started on Tanlac don't know her on fist sight.

"She had been suffering from stomach trouble and nervousness for eighteen years and had not been able to leave the place for a long time. We had spent all the money we had and all I could borrow for treatment and medicines, but she never even so much as got a good night's sleep from it. She couldn't pick up a broom and sweep nor cook a meal. In fact she was just a complete nervous and physical wreck and almost a confirmed invalid. I have seen her nearly die with pains and cramps in her stomach after eating and the gas would press on her heart so she could hardly breathe. Then she had headaches that almost drove her distracted. Why, I've seen her just ring her hands and cry with pain and have stayed home with her weeks at a time fearing she would never pull through. I didn't see how she could get well, for she could neither eat nor sleep and was getting worse every day.

"After hearing the boys down at Avery's talk about how Tanlac had helped them and what it had done for some of their wives I decided for Mrs. White to try it and you can see for your self, she is now the picture of health. The very first bottle showed big results. In a few days she could eat better and sleep better and was not so nervous. Well, I bought about twelve bottles of Tanlac for her in all and now she eats just anything, sleeps like a child and never has a pain. In fact, she is just as well and happy as a person can be and we are both praising Tanlac all the time."

"Tanlac is sold in Maryville by Koch Pharmacy, in Conception Junction by A. M. Colly, in Pickering by H. M. Lincoln, in Burlington Junction by Coster Pharmacy, in Barnard by Bear Drug Co., in Elmo by King Drug Co., in Clearmont by Dr. W. H. Wiley, in Ravenswood by C. A. Shunk, in Arkoe by Rufus R. Smith, in Hopkins by Hopkins Drugs Co., and in Parnell by F. L. Hart." ADV.

LARGE CITIES WILL KEEP OWN TIME

OPERATE UNDER MUNICIPAL ORDINANCE IN EAST

DAYLIGHT SAVING KEPT

New York Takes Lead in Continuing Plan — Similar Legislation In Other Cities

Washington, Nov. 12.—Many cities in the eastern states will continue daylight saving next year under municipal ordinances, it is learned here. That confusion will result there is no doubt, due to the fact that the railroads, telephone and telegraph companies and interstate and intercity enterprises will carry on their business on the time of the naval conservatory in Washington.

Weather reports, market reports and the functions of the postoffice will also be controlled by standard time.

New York has taken the lead in continuing the daylight saving plan. An ordinance providing for turning the clocks back an hour in summer has been passed by the board of aldermen and signed by Mayor Hylan. When the state legislature convenes in Albany in January it is likely that an effort will be made to enact a state wide law for the same purpose.

Similar legislation acts are being urged in some of the states of New England. Industrial centers like Baltimore, Philadelphia, Reading, Hoboken, Jersey City and South Bethlehem are considering the enactment of municipal laws to continue the extra hour of sunlight.

In Pittsburgh a movement is on foot for a municipal ordinance for the same purpose. In the west the movement has been started, too; Cincinnati already has a local ordinance; Chicago is considering one, and Salt Lake City is debating the matter.

There is little prospect that congress will give an ear to the pleas of these cities to reconsider the action of abolishing the national daylight saving plan. Overriding the president's veto on the first repeal act, they are "dead set" against it.

Protests from the farmers have been loud and prolonged in the matter. The claim is made that the farm are controlled by city time regardless of their distance from urban centers. Farm workers and hired men have insisted on beginning their work at the usual hour, according to city time, and stopping work in the late afternoon in like fashion. The farmers point out that the time-saving scheme does not change the laws of nature. The dew remains on the ground as long in the morning—an hour longer, in fact—under the time-saving plan as it did before.

The farm help, although reporting for work an hour earlier, have not been able to enter the hayfields or begin plowing at an earlier time by the sun than they did before. They insist on quitting work an hour earlier by the "sun time," which, it is claimed, causes the loss of an hour's work on the farms.

"You can't cut down the cost of living by a scheme of that kind," wrote an Indiana farmer to his congressman. "My farm help insists on quitting work by city time, although the sun is still high in the sky, and I am simply losing an hour's work in my fields."

The cows, too, it is claimed, have not taken kindly to the time-saving plan. With a change twice each year in the usual hours of milking there has been noticed a decrease in the quantity of milk—another cause for

ATTITUDE OF SOME JAPS TOWARD LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Tokio Paper Says Covenant Will Not be a Success Without the Mikado at Its Head

Tokio, Japan.—(By mail).—An interesting editorial indicating how the League of Nations has moved the Japanese and how the "divine attributes" of the mikado are considered to fit the royal family as leaders of the League, appeared here in the "Niroku."

The translation reads: "The imperial family of Japan is as worthy of respect as is God, and is the embodiment of benevolence and justice. The imperial family of Japan is parent not only over 60,000,000 people, but of all mankind on earth. In the eyes of the imperial family all races are but one and the same. It stands above all racial considerations. All human disputes, therefore, may be settled in accordance with its immaculate justice. The League of Nations, which is proposed to save mankind from war, can only attain its real object by placing the imperial family of Japan at its head.

"To attain its object the League must have a strong punitive force of superior national and superior racial character, and this force can only be found in the imperial family of Japan."

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes —Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and accustomed to getting up at 4 o'clock in the morning, which, if they get their eight or nine hours of sleep, sends them to bed before the chickens go to roost, and sometimes even before the sun has disappeared.

Officials of the federal government do not look kindly on the local movements to retain the time-saving plan, and say it will cause untold confusion.

County Judiciaries Return.

Prosecuting Attorney Charles McCaffrey and Judges Dwight Davis and E. T. Bailey returned last evening from Grant City where they went to contest the case of Platte Valley drainage district, the county having assessed benefits of $13,500 and also for several new bridges over the ditch costing from $10,000 to $13,000. The case was continued until December 22.

Indian summer is a term loosely applied to any period of exceptionally fine weather occurring during October or November, but the weight of authority seems to place it in November. According to one tradition of the Indians "they always had a second summer of nine days just before winter set in," which would indicate November.

The Service Star Legion, of which Mrs. Robert Carlton Morris of Toledo is the national president, is now planning for the planting of thousands of memorial trees through every chapter in the country. This is the organization made up of eleven organizations of women relatives of men in the world war.

In its instructions for December the assoriation points to the need of care for the trees during the winter. All trees marked in the fall should now be cut down and the infested wood burned.

DEMAND FOR RABBIT SKINS CREATES INDUSTRY FOR BOYS

U. S. Department of Agriculture Will Supply Information of Possible Purchasers

In recent years several kinds of fur, formerly of so little value as to offer no inducement to the trapper, have been raised in price and consequently collecting them has been made profitable. Rabbit pelts, which are extensively used by hat makers, are among the products. One eastern concern has announced that it will need 10,000,000 rabbit skins during 1919 and 1920, and it desires as far as possible to secure them from American sources. This is an indication of a market which should interest many a farmer boy. This fall and winter dried, cased rabbit skins will probably bring a reasonably good return. They are sold by the pound, which will contain seven or eight skins. Many farm boys can readily acquire, in the course of the winter, large numbers of skins which will net them a tidy sum, and, in addition, they will have the pleasure of trapping experience. The United States department of agriculture will supply any inquirer with the names and addresses of possible purchasers of rabbit skins and other pelts.

War Increased Dairy Exports.

During 1914 the United States exported only 700,000,000 pounds of milk in the form of butter and cheese and no condensed milk. The war worked wonders, however, in developing our foreign trade because of the curtailment in domestic supplies of the Allies and importations from pre-war sources.

Missouri Crops, November, 1919.

Jefferson City, Nov. 12. — Missouri corn yields 27 bushels per acre on 5,756,000 acres, or 155,312,000 bushels, according to E. A. Logan and Jewell Mayes of the United States bureau of crop estimates and state board of agriculture.

Corn on Missouri farms will average 27 bushels per acre, against 20 bushels in 1918, and a long time average of 27 bushels, with a total of 21,512,000 bushels greater than last year. Quality is 82%, against 73% last year, and 78% for ten year average. Amount of last year's crop on hand is small, only 3% against 7% in 1918, and cribs are well cleaned out. The acreage to be gathered for grain is 83% of that planted; hogged off by animals 7% and silage 10%, with farmers estimating the yield at 6 tons of silage per acre. Where corn was good much silage was cut, where poor but little, as farmers needed the grain. The acreage cut for fodder was 28% of that planted. The average price of new corn is opening around $1.25, with the price as low as $1 in northern counties, and up to $1.75 in some southern ones. Recent heavy rains have delayed husking and damaged the crop where blown down. Overflows along the Osage, Gasconade, Meramec and smaller streams caused heavy losses by carrying away corn in the shock, and the unusual sight of salvaging corn like driftwood has been seen in several places. Quality is extra good in most counties north of the rivers. Some farmers are inclined to sell their hogs and hold the corn. Fodder in the southwest is very poor —spoiled by too much rain.

Where Can I Find Relief From Itching, Terrifying Eczema?

Question on Lips of Afflicted.

There is a harrassing discomfort caused by Eczema that almost becomes a torture. The itching is almost unbearable, and the skin seems on fire with the burning irritation. A cure from local applications of salves and ointments is impossible, because such treatment can only allay the pain temporarily. The disease can only be reached by going deep down to its source, which is in the blood, the disease being caused by an infection which breaks out through the skin. That is why the most satisfactory treatment for all so-called skin diseases is S. S. S., which acts by cleansing the blood. Get a bottle to-day, and you will see results from the right treatment.
